The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company announces the appointment of A. G. Ring as local manager, succeeding A. G. Wild who has been promoted to the company's division office in San Francisco.

Ring comes to Palo Alto well qualified to assume his new responsibilities, having gained a wide knowledge of the telephone business through varied experience in different departments of the organization. After entering the employ of the company in its San Francisco business office in 1925 Ring was assigned to important sales and engineering work in the general office. In 1927 has was appointed methods supervisor, and the following year was sent to Ukiah as manager, the position he has held until his present appointment.

Ring is a graduate of the University of Wyoming, where he resumed his studies after attending the University of California for two years.

Wild, manager here since March, 1930, has been assigned to a responsible position in the division office at San Francisco, where he will direct special sales activities. In announcing the change Wild expressed his regret at leaving this pleasant community and the many friends he has made.

THEFT OF TOOLS PREVENTED BY ALERT CHAUFFEUR

Theft of two sacks of tools from the garage of the gate cottage on the Stewart Lowery estate at Atherton, was foiled early Tuesday morning by the wakefulness of A. R. Wilkins ,the Lowery chauffeur.

In his flight after Wilkins came out of the cottage to investigate noises he had heard the burglar dropped both sacks some 60 feet away from the cottage. He disappeared in the darkness ,and a two-hour search of the surrounding territory by police failed to find him.

The burglar in his hurry also left behind his coat and coveralls and what was apparently the loot from another small burglary. They were discovered at the foot of a tree about 150 feet away from the cottage. The articles found with the coat and coveralls included a small hand drill, brace, bits, four hammers, a small electric plate and an electric warfle iron.

MENLO AUTOMOBILE CO. READY FOR BUSINESS

Harry B. Fowler is opening up a new garage and repair shop in this city the building formerly occupied by the Toyon Motors, on the highway opposite the Central School.

Mr. Fowler, was for many years connected with various Nash agencies, and knows the automobile industry from start to finish. He will have a fully equipped repair shop under the direction of experts and any work entrusted to him will be promptly and efficiently done and the prices will be right.

The Menlo Automobile Company will handle the popular Chevrolet automobiles, negotiate automobile loans and handle accessories.

LOCAL HOME DAMAGED BY FIRE MONDAY MORNING

The home of Stephen Kern on Encina avenue was slightly damaged by fire of an unknown origin early last Monday morning.

The blaze burned a portion of the attic and a small hole through the roof of the house before it was extinguished by the local fire department.

Some asked what had become of Charles Palmer the other day, and later discovered him driving a Buick sedan in place of his old Hudson. Charlie says the new car runs like a million dollars. He is also thinking of going into the automobile painting game.

P. A. Yacht Members Enjoy Cruise To Alviso

One of the most successful events in the history of yachting in this vicinity occurred last Saturday night when members of the Palo Alto Yacht Club cruised to Alviso to be the guests of the South Bay Yacht Club.

Thirty-five members of the local club went, taking practically every boat in the club. The cruise started about five o'clock and on arriving at Alviso the members met a royal welcome. The features of the evening was the excellent banquet which had been prepared, and which was followed by moving pictures and dancing.

Most of the members of the local club returned to the club house on Saturday evening, although some of the cruised up the bay and spent the night.

Harry Lusk of Menlo Park, was one of those composing the party on the big cruiser belonging to Foree Chittenden, and relates some of the events in an amusing manner. It appears from Lusk's story that the party on this boat cruised to Redwood City Saturday night and for some reason had trouble in getting through the railroad bridge at Dumbarton. According to Lusk Bob Vincent, who was at the wheet, forgot to turn out for the bridge or got confused and misunderstood the lights, or possibly did not wait for the bridge to open, but be that as it may, the party got to Redwood City all right.

Many social events are being talked over and planned for the coming winter season and many good times will be had at the Palo Alto Yacht Club House. The first event is to be a party and dance on the thirteenth of this month.

An invitation is extended to all yachting enthusiasts and boat lovers to join the local club. The initiation fee and dues are nominal and the good times many. Anyone desiring information about the club, who reside in Menlo Park should see Harry Lusk or L. E. Harris at the Menlo Park Recorder office.

HAYDOCK GETS ENDORSEMENT FOR ASSEMBLY

Wesley Haydock, candidate for State Assemblyman for San Mateo County, was given the political endorsement of one of the largest clubs in the county, the Lafayette Club of San Mateo at a meeting on Wednesday. Haydock's endorsement was declared unanimous. J. E. Candevan of Redwood City and A. E. Esnault of San Carlos were active in the work of securing the club's endorsement for Haydock.

Hubert Rosselle, who is managing Haydock's campaign in Redwood City, said, upon learning of the endorsement: "This endorsement practically assures a Haydock victory at the primaries, August 30. It is proof that intelligent voters desire to run the politicians out of politics, to make room for honest, capable men who have no connection whatsoever with politics."

HIT-RUN PROBATION PLEA UP TO SWART

Probation for Lloyd Lam, 21-year-old Palo Alto youth who pleaded guilty to a hit-run charge growing out of the death of Mary Atilino, Menlo Park domestic, several weeks ago, was being decided by Superior Judge Swart yesterday afternoon.

Unless the court grants probation, Lam faces a tern in San Quentin prison. He pleaded guilty when a more serious charge of manslaughter was withdrawn.

Judge Swart was also to rule on probation for William H. Gibson, 63, formerly wealthy East Palo Alto contractor, who confessed to attempting to durn down his own home because of financial distress. The elderly builder pleaded guilty to a charge of arson.

The Sunday services at the Presbyterian church will be as follows: 9:45 Sunday School, 11:00 Morning Worship, the minister speaking upon "The Three Cheers for the Master," 6:0 Christian Endeavor; 7:30 evening service, subject "The Religion of the Presidents."

Prospects Bright For Millington In Race For Assembly

Wayne R. Millington, Redwood City attorney and leading candidate for the office of Member of Assembly from San Mateo County, swings into the final weeks of the campaign with prospect exceedingly bright for election.

The only two organizations endorsing for this position at the date of this writing are the Beresford Park Development Association and the American-Italian Progressive Club of San Mateo County, both having gone on record as favoring his candidacy.

WAYNE R. MILLINGTON

Mr. Millington is basing his campaign not upon the usual claims put forth by chronic office-seekers and politicians, but has endeavored rather to present to the voters a business like and reasonable solution insofar as the State Legislature is concerned, on the problems of high taxes and unemployment. Without making claims that he will cause a magical reduction in taxes, as other candidates wil do, and which he, and they, and the people of San Mateo county know can not be realized, he offers rather a pledge to eliminate non-essential state expenditures. By this is meant expenses which are not revenue or employment producing.

He is strongly in favor of necessary construction of highways, harbors and buildings and for necessary repairs to existing properties.

As a solution of the high tax problem of San Mateo county he makes as part of his platform, a pledge to work for harbor development in the county. San Mateo is predominently a county of homes. The industrial area is so limited that the high valuation ordinarily accompanying industrial areas is almost lacking here. He believes that with proper encouragement and assistance the 50,000 idle acres of harbor lands in San Mateo county, lying on San Francisco Bay, could be converted into harbors and sites for factories and industries generally. With a tremendous increase in the assessed values of these properties, a corresponding olad would be taken from the homes, small ranches and dairies throughout the county.

Mr. Millington is thirty-three years old, an Alumnus of Stanford university, married, and a son of a pioneer stock. His paretns settled early at Santa Rosa, California, where his father, the late Judge Seth Millington, was a school-mate of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court ,at the Pacific College, lacated at Santa Rosa.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will meet at the church next Thursday afternoon, August 11.

Dog Track Petition Denied By Council At Tuesday Session

Menlo Park will not go to the dogs, such was the decision of the city fathers last Tuesday nght at a public hearing held on the matter.

This decision was reached at the close of the crowded public hearing after Almon E. Roth, Stanford University controller, expressed vigorous opposition to the scheme and many Menlo Parw residents also attacked the proposal. Opposition petitions were received from Menlo Junior College, Stanford University and 90 residents of the city.

A strong challenge to the dog racing proponents was hurled by Roth.

"We canont tolerate gambling," he said, "for it is gambling and nothing but a dodge of the law. We passed a law against the selling of liquor within a mile and a half of universities.

"If necessary," he asserted, "we will go before the legislature to oppose this thing." Roth's statement was greeted with applause by many who were in attendance.

Roth stated that he knew the race track would be bad for the students an dcited cases where there had been trouble as a result of the Belmont track.

At the beginning of his talk before the council, Roth expressed his embarrassment that proponents of the race track had urged the members of the council to disregard protest petitions from anyone outside of the city.

Disclaiming any desire to influence the board against its better judgment, Roth declared that the university is strongly interested in the community.

Roth stated that a dog track is not good for business.

"The money from the short dog racing season won't balance the unpaid bills that business men will have," he said. "It is important to you what your reputation as a town is.

"You know the reputation of the past—saloons, gambling and liquor—although it is different now," Roth declared. "You have made great progress as a community.

"Now you will either make your opportunity or throw it away. It is a matter of dollars and cents to you said Roth.

Victor DuPont, one of the three promoters of the dog track project at the opening of the hearing objected to protests from "an other county." "We will withdraw our petition if they will furnish work for the same number of unemployed as we will," said Dupont.

Dupont said that at the beginning the promoters would put 40 men to work and that when the track was finished they would employ from 75 to 100 men and women.

Both Derry and Morey the other promoters of the track said that they did not want the permit if the council did not think it would do the city some good.

"To one reason for the track, there are six against it," declared the Rev. W. L. Bone, pastor of the Presbyterian church. "I believe that the unemployment aid promise is sincere," he said, "but it is only a promise, and I believe is should be a guarantee."

Rev. Bone gave as his reason for the denying of the permit that it would "open the gates for a wide-open town," that it would lessen the property values, the business men would suffer, it would increase the gambling spirit and affect the growth of the community.

Other speakers in opposition to the project were A. H. Tupper, C. W. Thomas, F. W. Cumpherman, Miss Sara Fry, Wallace Brown, Walter Drugg and George Nesbit.

The permit was denied on the motion of Councilman E. J. Crane.

On receipt of the permission of the state highway commission for the installation of traffic signals at the Central School on the highway, Mayor Weeden stated that the commission directed that the signals could be operated from 8:30 to 9:10 a. m., from 11:45 a. m. to 1:15 p. m. and from 2 to 4 p. m.

The Butte Electric Company was granted a contract to install the signal on its bid of $247 for the material and instalation complete. Another bid of $284.30 was received from the General Electric Company without the installation.

Fifty dollars was ordered drawn to be used for the purpose of street cleaning.

Local Firemen Respond To 28 Calls In July

Twenty-eight fire calls, eight less than during the corresponding month a year ago, were answered during July, according to the monthly report of Chief Thomas Cuff of the Menlo Park Fire department.

The calls were as folows: 13 grass fires, three house fires, 11 still alarms (mainly for small grass blazes) and one automobile fire. Seven of the blazes were caused by careless burning of weeds and rubbish, and three were of incendiary origin. One arrest was made on an arson charge.

A year ago, there were the following fires: 24 grass blazes, five house fires, six still alarms and one false alarm.

One hundred seven burning permits were issued during July. Not a single blaze was caused by anyone having such burning permits, according to Chief Cuff. During June 137 permits were issued.

A new 35-foot ladder was added to the fire department's equipment during the month.

POOLE FOR SUPERVISOR CLUB GETS NEW MEMBERS

Since Mr. Winters recently announced his intention of not seeking the office of supervisor for the Third Township, many of his friends and former workers have now joined the "Poole for Supervisor Club," and are throwing their influence and active support toward re-election of the incumbent supervisor.

Their expressions are unanimous that Mr. Poole's re-election, since the withdrawal of Mr. Winters, stands now definitely assured, especially when summing up John W. Poole's extremely fine record of active service to his constituents.

The executive board of 25 members, directing the activities of the 'John W. Poole for Supervisor Club' with a membership of over 2,000 signed-up residents of the Third Township, are quite jubilant over the fact that the voters are appreciating wholeheartedly the sincere efforts and good work done by Supervisor Poole, and his program of activities for the ensuing term.

The entire membership is staunch ly backing the Executive Board, so that due award may be given their friend John W. Poole, for his splendid record of efficiency and economy.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS ENTERTAINED THIS WEEK

Boys and girls of her Sunday School class at the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church were entertained this week by Miss Lucie Vandergon at her Sant Cruz avenue home. Games were played, refreshments served, and picture scrip-books made for a children's home.

Those present were Charlotte Wilson, Mae Johnson, Phyllis McMurray, Leona Alexander, Billy Harms, Stanley Hook, Lillie Hom, and Atsushi Yamaga. Miss Vandergon was assisted by her niece, Miss Esther Bearce.

DALY CITY WOMAN CUT IN MENLO AUTO CRASH

Mrs. Vincent Pastorino, wife of a florist, 15 Beta avenue Daly City, was treated last Sunday night at the South San Francisco hospital for cuts about the face and arms suffered at Menlo Park when the family auto rammed the rear of another machine. Pastorino, driver of the car, escaped injury, said hospital reports. Mrs. Pastorino was sent home after first aid treatment.

Mrs. Jay T Cooper is returning to her home in San Carlos after a vacation at Forest Lakes this week.

Coming Primary Promises To Be Warmly Contested

Aspirants for political office in San Mateo county today were getting down to real campaigning, with the primary election less than a month away. Never before has San Mateo county faced a more interesting or amore warml contesyted election than the one to be held August 30.

Wide interest is centering in the contest among candidates for the county's superior judgships, especially deparment No. 1, where Superior Judge George H. Buck has presided for years, even before another department was thought of for the county.

No candidate in the entire field is more interested in his campaign or more energetic in his efforts for victory than is Judge Buck, who has held the post for nearly a half century. The venerable jurist has been an outstanding character in the county for years. He has presided over every important case, civil or criminal, in the past four decades.

Judge Buck has served San Mateo county eight years as district attorney, before he was elected superior judge 42 years ago. In that times he has seen San Mateo grow from the "cow" county class to an important part of a great metropolitan area. Oldtimers have said that the history of San Mateo county is the history of Judge Buck, and his long service in the development of the county has earned him the title of the county's "Grand Old Man."

The oldtimers, who have known the judge for years, today are among his most active supporters. Many of the county's pioneer and best known families are his campaigners. No man in the entire county is more widely known.

Judge Buck's work on the bench has gained wide comment not only in this county, but throughout the entire state. In reporting on the activities of his court last year, the California Judicial Council, composed of judges over the entire state, paid Judge Buck the high tribute when it said, "He has handled more litigation than any other jurist in the state, and in osme cases as much as four judges combined."

Despite his 84 years, Judge Buck is, according to officials in Redwood City, the most active man in the court house. The judge himself is modest about his activity, but says he has always been a staunch admirer of Oliver Wendel Holmes, who retired from the supreme court of the United States only a short time ago at the age of 92 years. Justice Holmes has an international reputation for fearlessness and fairness.

The Judge Buck Club of San Mateo reported today that its members and workers were finding a surprising response to Judge Buck's candidacy.

COUNTY FIRE WARDEN WERDER BADLY HURT

Bert L. Werder, veteran county fire warden, is under a doctor's care today at his home in Redwood City, as the result of a peculiar accident at the county memorial park Wednesday in which Werder narrowly escaped having both legs crushed.

The fire warden was supervising the "snaking" of logs from a gully in the park, when a heavy cable attached to the end of a log broke and whipped around his legs before he could jump cuear.

Werder was rendered unconscious by the blow. Workers carried him to their camp and then summoned an ambulance fro n Redwood City. At the county seat, Werder was treated by Dr. Harry E. Mason for deep lacerations of both legs and then emoved to his home.

Dr. Mason said no bones were broken and added that it was a miracle that Werder's legs were not crushed by the blow.

The fire warden will be confined to his bed for several weeks, the doctor said. He was suffering excruciating pain from the injuries to his left leg.

BEDTIME STORY
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

THE HOME OF RATTLES THE KINGFISHER

WHEN Peter Rabbit first heard that Rattles the Kingfisher's house was a hole in the ground he didn't believe it. No, sir, Peter didn't believe it. He knew that some of his feathered friends built their homes on the ground. Mrs. Grouse, for instance, and Bob White and Carol the Meadow Lark, but he just couldn't imagine a real bird living in the ground. Johnny Chuck told him about it. Johnny had heard the feathered folks of the Old Orchard talking about it.

"I'll believe it when I see it," declared Peter.

You know a great many people are like Peter in that they must see a thing in order to believe it. So Peter refused to believe that Rattles the Kingfisher actually makes his home in the ground, but his curoisity was aroused, and once Peter's curiosity is aroused he has no peace and he gives his friends no peace until it has been satisfied. So the first chance Peter got he hurried over to the Smiling Pool. He knew that Rattles spends most of his time there or along the Laughing Brook, or over by the Big River, and he knew that the other people who live there must know something about him. Grandfather Frog was sitting on his big green lilypad watching for foolish green flies, Peter has a great deal of respect for Grandfather Frog, who is accounted very old and very wise. He waited until Grandfather Frog had caught several foolish green flies, for he had learned by experience that Grandfather Frog was a great deal more likely to answer questions when his stomach was full. When he thought that it was wise to do so he ventured a question.

"What Is It You Have Heard?" Demanded Grandfather Frog.

"If you please, Grandfather Frog, where does Rattles the Kingfisher make his home?" asked Peter in his most polite manner.

"Chug-a-rum! How should I know?" replied Grandfather Frog, gruffly.

"Because you are so wise that you know everything," said Peter.

"No such thing. No such thing. Nobody knows everything," retorted Grandfather Frog, still speaking gruffly, but it was plain to be seen that he was a wee bit flattered.

"Well, you know so much that it amounts to the same thing," declared Peter. "I have heard such a queer thing about Rattles the King Fisher that I can't believe it. I guess it is just gossip among the other birds who don't seem to like Rattles very well."

"What is it you have heard?" demanded Grandfather Frog.

"That Rattles makes his home in a hole in the ground," replied Peter.

"Well, I don't see anything hard to believe about that," grunted Grandfather Frog. "Why shouldn't he live in a hole in the ground?"

"Why, because he is a bird," replied Peter.

"Chatterer the Red Squirrel lives in a hole in a tree, doesn't he? And Happy Jack the Gray Squirrel builds a nest in the top of a tree, doesn't he?" asked Grandfather Frog.

"Well, they are not birds; they are animals. If they make their homes in the trees, why should not birds make their homes in the ground?" continued Grandfather Frog.

This was too much for Peter. Why shouldn't they? There was no reason why they shouldn't. "Then it is true that Rattles makes his home in a hole in the ground!" cried Peter.

"Of course it is true," replied Grandfather Frog gruffly. "There isn't any reason in the world why it shouldn't be true. Rattles is a bird of sense."

"Where is it?" asked Peter eagerly.

"That is none of my business, nor is it any business of yours," declared Grandfather Frog. I never have asked Rattles where it is, and if I knew I wouldn't tell you. I never pry into other people's secrets, and if you will take my advice you won't either, Peter Rabbit. It is a bad habit. No good comes of it. Now run away and attend to your own affairs, I want to take a nap."

Peter knew he had learned all he could from Grandfather Frog, so he thanked him and started off.

Canoes Must Carry Navigation Lights, Commerce Dept. Warns

Vacationists who thrill at the thoughts of after-dark canoe rides, with only the moon and a blonde or brunette for company, have been warned by A. J. Tyrer, of the Department of Commerce, that moonlight alone as illumination is not sufficient—is illegal in fact if the canoeing is done in Federal waters.

According to Mr. Tyrer, it is necessary for post-sundown paddlers to supplement the moon's beams with navigation lights. Moonlight, it seems, is perfectly satisfactory for romance, but highly inefficient as a safety factor. It is further pointed out by Mr. Tyrer that light canoes are the greatest menaces afloat, especially when motorboats are used in the same waters.

While the Federal law does not apply to inland waters, it is suggested that there too every canoe be equipped with a flashlight for moonlight riding as protection against collisions with larger craft. Such accidents, it is pointed out, are decidedly on the increase.

Mounted lights are difficult to install on the average light, shell-like canoe and still more difficult to protect from water damage. It has been pointed out that the ordinary flashlight, occasionally snapped on and off, gives the desired protection for both canoeist and motor boat operator and at a minimum cost.

High Taxes Cause Of Present Business Slump

The excessive tax burden now borne by the American people and particularly the unreasonable portion of these taxes placed on real estate and improvements have, in my opinion, contributed more to bringing about our present business and economic chaos than any other single cause.

The total tax now being paid by the American people is approaching twelve billions of dollars. Farming, of course, is our basic industry and the total gross income from this source for this year will not exceed eight billion dollars. This is an intolerable condition and must be remedied before prosperity will return.

The manufacturer, for example, has been waiting for low prices to build a new factory. We'll say it can be built for twenty thousand dollars which means it will be assessed for ten thousand dollars. We are approaching a six dollar per hundred tax rate and this means six hundred dollars per year on the building or 6 per cent on an additional ten thousand dollars. Naturally, under the present conditions he does not build a new building. The result is no work for the woodsman, nothing for the millman to do nothing for the railroad and trucking companies to haul, no roofing paper is required, no wiring, fixtures, or electrical equipment. There's no employment for the carpenter, painter, roofer, or other artisans.

If we multiply this case by the thousands that exist in the United States today, we can easily see that excessive taxes on real estate and improvements is a great contributing cause to our economical breakdown.

The further result is the destruction of the value of our basic wealth, land and improvements. The value of bonds, stocks, mortgages all rest to a great extent on land and improvements.

Unless these items are relelved of some of the excessive taxes, you can look for a general economic breakdown and the exaporation of all wealth.

Olympic Riders To Be Horse Show Feature

Though the great Olympic Games at Los Angeles provide a great attraction for sporting America and will dray a great attendance it is a pleasant surprise to find that greater interest is manifested than ever in the coming San Mateo County Horse Show which will be held at the Menlo Circus Club, August 13 to 20 inclusive, and that the entries just closed will exceed those of any previous year.

The real spectacular event of the Olympic Games, the international contest between the best horses and riders of the United States and several foreign armies, will be staged in miniature at the coming show when the Olympic contenders representing the armies of the United States and Sweden will appear and give exhibitions of horsemanship which will undoubtedly thrill the thousands who have the opportunity to seeing these great equestrians.

The show, termed by many the Horse Olympiad of 1932, is expected to draw a record crowd this year and plans are being made to handle a crowd of 10,000 on the opening day, August 13.

Some time either during the noon hour of dinner hour Wednesday the office of the Menlo Park Recorder was entered and robbed of a 45 Colt automatic pistol, belong to the editor.

HORSE SHOW HAS CLASS SUGGESTED BY TEDDIE DALE

Councilman Teddie Dale of Menlo Park, an old Yorkshire man who has not yet lost his love for the horse, recently suggested the inclusion of a special class in the coming San Mateo County National Horse Show and through the co-operation of Major Louis Edney of the Menlo Riding and Driving Club this class is now certain of inclusion in the program. It is the seat and hands class for children. The talent of the youngsters will be the issue, not the quality of the animals they are riding. Very often a handsome horse offsets the demerits of the rider and vice versa. Councilman Dale is rooting hard for the success of the coming show which opens at the Menlo Circus Club on August 13 and closes one week later.

Dog's Ears Serve Mistress; He Tells Her When Bells Ring

Max doesn't boast of his ancestry, but he is proud of his responsibility as "ears" for Mrs. L. C. Thiemke, of Omaha, Neb. When the door bell rings, or the telephone, he nudges her and points the way. And now, with her new "deaf set" telephone, she can carry on a conversation over the wire with perfect ease.

Max is just dog, as anyone would know who looked at him. Hardly the type for a watch dog, yet he is on the alert all day, with ears that prick up at the slightest sound. Sensitive ears they have to be, since they serve both him and his mistress, Mrs. L. C. Thiemke, of Omaha, Neb. She doesn't hear very much: not the sound of a person's voice, nor the noise of bells.

So when the door bell rings, Max nudges his mistress, and leads the way to the door. Mrs. Thiemke relies on Max; he doesn't make mistakes.

One day when Max nudged Mrs. Thiemke and headed for the front door, the visitor proved to be Walter Harris, of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company, come to see about installing telephone service in the Thiemke's new home. When Mrs. Thiemke explained that she is deaf, he used paper and pencil to state his errand. And as he watched Max, he began to see what part the dog plays in that household.

If Max could tell her about the door bell, surely he could inform her when the telephone rang, thought Harris. Only, what good would it do? Even if Mrs. Thiemke answered, she couldn't hear what was said to her.

Then, with pad and pencil again, Harris told her about the "deaf set"—the vacuum-tube amplifying telephone, for people with impaired hearing, which increases the volume of the voice in the receiver. Would she be interested in a demonstration of it? Indeed she would.

Again Harris came to the house, this time bringing with him the equipment for the "deaf set" telephone. Busily he went to work installing it. Soon he made a call, handed the receiver to Mrs. Thiemke. In an instant her face beamed. "Oh, I can hear you so plainly," she cried. "Just as though my hearing were perfect."

Max is getting leaner now, what with the added responsibility of notifying his mistress every time the telephone rings, as well as the door bell.

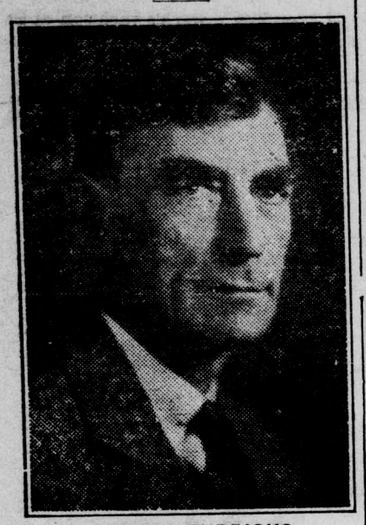
Hendricks Announces Candidacy For Congress



SCOTT HENDRICKS

With the opening of general campaign headquarters at 209 South First street, San Jose, the campaign of Scott Hendricks for Congressman from the Eighth District is now in full swing, according to an announcement made today. Bradford M. Melvin, of San Mateo County, is chairman of the campaign committee. His assistant is Nora A. Blickfeldt, in charge of the San Jose headquarters. Clay Miller is treasurer of the committee and Harry Robb of San Mateo is campaign manager. Robb and Candidate Hendricks have been on a tour of Monterey county for the past week and will devote the next four or five days to campaigning in Santa Clara county. They have already covered a large part of San Mateo county.

According to reports from Robb, Hendricks has developed into a forceful campaigner, and is making a decidedly favorable impression upon the voters of the district.

Robb stated that Hendricks is universally commended for his forthright stand on the liquor question. He favors immediate modification of the Volstead Act and speedy replacement of the Eighteenth Amendment with a workable plan for proper regulation and taxation of the liquor traffic. Hendricks is also highly commended for his declaration for a tariff adequate to protect agriculture, industry, and labor, and for drastic economies in the cost of government.

It was announced that strong volunteer local campaign committees are being formed in every community, women's Hendricks clubs are organizing, and from now until primary day there will be no let up in the drive to unseat A. M. Free, the incumbent.

Mother's Cook Book

SOME VEGETABLES

WHEN one realizes what a wealth of healthful qualities are grown in our gardens, what a comfort it is to step into them and pull a few fresh radishes or an onion or two for flavor, it would seem that everybody with a 5-foot plot would try to grow some of the fresh green things. Did you ever hear anybody complain of a meal having too many vegetables? One may begin a meal with a vegetable cocktail and end it with a salad dessert. The main dishes may be vegetables, the entree and the drink if so desired.

Tomato Juice Cocktail.

Strain canned tomatoes—you know the vitamins in tomatoes are still active in the cooked vegetable. Press the pulp lightly to extract all the juice. To three cupfuls of the pulp add the juice of half a lemon, one tablespoonful of sugar, a whiff of celery salt and paprika to taste, a little pepper and salt. Put into a shaker with half as much ice and shake vigorously. Serve in cocktail glasses with tiny sandwiches of whole wheat bread.

Scalloped Egg Plant.

Cut a large egg plant into half-inch slices, pare them and place in salt water for a few minutes, then rinse and cut into cubes. Cover with boiling salted water and cook until tender. Drain well, add one small onion chopped and fried in butter, a tablespoonful each of chopped parsley and flour; cook, stirring for a few moments. Pour in a cupful of rich milk, add salt and paprika; when thick add the egg plant and turn into a buttered baking dish. Cover with buttered crumbs or dot with butter and bake to a nice brown.

Minted Carrots.

In every garden, even small ones, a bed of mint is treasured. A small root will live from year to year, and it will always be ready for mint sauce or to add to juleps or punches as well as to garnish dishes.

Boil young tender carrots until tender, in very little water. Add butter, sugar, a little vinegar and two sprigs of mint.

Origin of Mourning

Our custom of wearing black and going into seclusion out of respect for our dead is said to go back to the savage. To evade evil spirits which he imagined took possession of dead bodies he painted himself black, or if black painted himself white, and hid in his cave to avoid being found.

Sport Sketches

By Theron Fox

The Americans again seem to be well on the way of sweeping the Olympic Games. Rivalry from foreign nations is well scattered in the vairous events, so the United States just piles up point after point while other contesting countries have to be content with individual performances.

Sexton won the first title for the United States when he tossed out the 16 pound shot 52 feet 6 3-16 inches for a new Olympic record. Rother and Gray, former Stanford boys, took second and fifth places.

Eddie Tolan nosed out his teammate, Ralph Metcalfe in the century-meter dash to set a new Olympic mark and tie the existing world's record of 10.3 seconds. Third place went to Jonath of Germany and Simpson of the United States was fourth.

The American Cycling team of which Red Berti of San Jose was a member was eliminated on Monday evening. The race was followed by a big squabble between riders, officials and coaches over the selection of the team.

Some of the riders claim that the coach juggled the entries so that the results of the American tryouts meant onthing at all. It is probably all a matter of athletic politics, but it is too bad that such petty squabbling should find its way to the public.

On Saturday one of the feature events of the track meet will be held when the starters take their marks for the 3000-meter steeplechase. The trial heats indicate that the United States will be well represented in the finals of the event. This is the race where the boys jump over hurdles and into mud puddles.

Just why a person should be worthwhile watching as a baseball player because he wears red whiskers is hard to imagine. But that is how the barnstorming House of David nine gets by. The San Jose Bees are engaging the visitors at Sodality Park on Sunday afternoon.

The Japanese seem to be serious in their attempt to secure the 1940 Olympic Games. Visiting representatives have made the statement that the best possible stadium in the world will be built for the event if alloted to Japan. The Nipponese have the largest visiting delegation of athletes at the present games.

In the evening, Mrs. Williams gave an informal dinner for 18 guests who had attended the wedding of Miss Edna Lapham and Henry J. E. Van Oosten.

Nothing can take the place of a CASH RESERVE

Money in the bank is an investment that does not shrink in value and can be drawn upon immediately when needed. When trouble comes, or an emergency arises, a cash balance in a savings account often makes it unnecessary to sell assets at a sacrifice.

Lay the foundation of future peace of mind by arranging to open an account in one of the many convenient offices of this bank. Deposits at regular periods will quickly provide the cash reserve necessary for your purpose.
